CENTRAL

MORE THAN JUST THE NINE TO FIVE

An employee's work-life balance is more than just 9–5. Croydon is not only a place to work; it has global street food, traditional London pubs, gyms, theatres and exciting leisure activities including Laser Quest and baseball.

But if after work means meeting friends in Central London; the West End, The City and London Bridge are all approximately 20 minutes away.

Croydon has energy and edge in its wealth of street art, its MOBO list winners and punk history. The 1960s architecture in the centre has recently attracted critical acclaim from the National Trust and the addition of Boxpark has created a hub for Croydon's thriving social scene.

A TOWN OF CHANGE

Corinthian House is located in one of London's most culturally diverse and well-connected towns.

From tech start-ups to Boxpark, Croydon is one of London's fastest growing economies. Its prime location in the commuter corridor between central London and the South East makes it a hotspot for new and established companies.

Croydon is undergoing a period of remarkable change with new high-quality office buildings, over 2,500 new homes under development and substantial investment in local amenities.
